A geometrically ordered paragraph can survive reversed object extraction order. Its second line has the same font and sufficient width for conservative grouping. The final visual line belongs to this paragraph.